VICTORY IN DEBATE

Washington and Lee Goes Down to Defeat Before Our Boys

The Enosinians Win Their First Inter-collegiate Contest

Again has George Washington triumphed in debate. The occasion was the first annual debate between Washington and Lee University and our Enosinian Society on last Monday evening. This is the first time Enosinian has sought honors on the field of inter-collegiate debate and much interest was manifested as to how she would acquit herself.

The result has certainly justified the venture and no one need fear but that the honor of our University will be well cared for in the debates to follow.

The question was submitted by George Washington as follows:

"Resolved, that the United States should adopt a more stringent policy in regard to the admission of immigrants from Europe."

Washington and Lee elected to defend the negative.

The speakers for George Washington were, Messrs. C. W. Whitmore, W. C. Van Vleck and E. P. Gates; for Washington and Lee, Messrs. O. V. Armstrong, W. F. Semple, and M. T. McClure, while the Board of Judges consisted of:

Hon. A. M. Gould, Justice, Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, Mr. G. F. Bowerman, Librarian of the Public Library and Rev. R. P. Williams, D.D., arch deacon of Washington.

In opening for the affirmative Mr. Gates made it clear that the debate was "regarding the admission of immigrants" and not regarding what should be done with them after their admission.

He then declared that the affirmative was willing to admit that our past immigration was a success but he pointed out the change which has taken place in the character of our recent immigration making it much more undesirable than that which we have received in the past. He called attention to the large proportion of Italians and Slavs and the harm they do to our social and moral standards.

Mr. Armstrong opened for the negative with an eloquent tribute to the work of the immigrants in developing our resources and argued that these great resources had scarcely been tapped and that there was plenty of work for any one willing to work.

Mr. Van Vleck, our second speaker spent part of his time in a very effective rebuttal showing government statistics and the testimony of prominent labor leaders, that the labor market is already overstocked, resulting in a large army of unemployed and in fierce competition which lowers our wages and standards of living. He also declared that the races which constitute the largest part of our present immigration contribute a dangerous element to our labor problem.

Go to FISHER'S 1703 Penn. Avenue FOR STATIONERY, MAGAZINES and ARTISTS MATERIALS

The second speaker for the negative, Mr. Semple, denied that our present immigrants are worse than those of former years, declaring that opponents of immigration have always raised this cry. He then claimed that immigrants are today even more eager to adopt American institutions than ever before and showed by statistics that children of foreign parents have a higher percentage of school attendance and stand higher in their classes than those of native parents.

His speech like that of his colleague was remarkable for its polish and eloquence.

Mr. Whitmore, the third speaker on the affirmative, opened with a splendid rebuttal of the preceding speaker contending that the contest was one of fact and logic and not one of declamation. He also took up many of the preceding speaker's arguments in detail showing their defects. Mr. Whitmore's constructive argument dealt with the defects of the present law. He showed that at present the effectiveness of the present laws depends entirely on the word of the immigrant and presented four possible ways to remedy this evil. Mr. Whitmore's delivery was deliberate and impressive, his points being presented with great force and clearness. He closed by summing up the case for the affirmative showing the points upon which they rested their case.

Mr. McClure closed for the negative and took his whole time for rebuttal. This he handled in masterly style but he wasted much time in rebutting arguments which the affirmative had not presented and failed to answer one very important point in the argument that the present laws are inadequate.

Mr. Gates closed the debate with a five minutes rebuttal and did his best to deliver twenty minutes worth of objections in one quarter the time.

His points were all well taken and were a fitting close to a very interesting debate.

The judges were out for quite a while but finally returned and announced that George Washington had won because of the greater flexibility of their arguments and the more recent character of their figures and authorities.

The members of the negative team were all very effective in their delivery and it was the general impression that in this respect they excelled our boys.

Base Ball

Sometime during the coming week, the Base Ball Management will place on sale, season tickets, admitting to all games played on home grounds, for the price of one dollar.

In previous years the base ball management has been without funds to pay guarantees and current expenses, in the early part of the season and were forced to go outside for money. This was due almost entirely to the fact that the students did not purchase season tickets and so do their part toward helping a cause which for every man in the University should at least do something.

The people have either been absolutely without interest or have been unable to recognize a good business proposition when they saw it. If a student has not enough interest in the University to lend a helping hand by buying a ticket, at $1 he should at least interest some outsider who will very likely show some interest.

The season ticket proposition is increased this year, in a financial way also. The management offers you admission to nine or more games on your ticket, to games which will cost 25 cents per cap. at the gate, thus you get $2.25 worth of pleasure for $1.00.

Our schedule this year includes such teams as Villanova, Dickinson, Penn. State, Williams College, Virginia Military Inst., Johns Hopkins and Roanoke College, on our home grounds. The management has not definitely decided, but to one or two of these big games, if our team is in good shape, we will charge 50 cents admission, in order that we may clear expenses for the season. If this should be done, however, it will not affect the persons holding season tickets as they will be recognized just the same.

The expenses will be greatly increased this season as new lockers have to be put in at the University Field and the grand stand will have to be repaired. In the next issue of the HATCHET we hope to be able to let the students know the prospects for the team this year; at this time we can only say that we expect it to be the best that ever represented this college.

The season tickets will be out before March 15th and everyone is asked to do his or her part in this part of the work—Buy a ticket—

The University Smoker

The committee appointed by the Athletic Council to make arrangements for a University Smoker has nearly completed the preliminary details and will submit its report to the Council on next Friday night. The smoker is no longer a probability but is a certainty. It will be held sometime during the latter part of this month, the date not being definitely decided upon. The committee has two excellent places in view but has not yet made a selection, as each has its advantages over the other.

The committee intends to have a musical and literary program and urges all classes to begin preparations for the "stunt" which they are to present. The plan is to have every class in the University take some part, either furnishing a chorus, a dialogue or some other feature of entertainment. The Class Presidents are requested to take this matter up without delay and to confer with Mr. R. C. Heflebower, chairman of the committee, Room 179, Navy Dept., or 915 H. H. Ave., in regard thereto.

From the present outlook this smoker will even surpass that memorable one held two years ago at the New Willard. The members of the Faculty, the Alumni and the Students will intermingle in good fellowship, old friendships will be renewed, new acquaintances made and University enthusiasm generated.

We feel confident that all of those who attended the First University Smoker will attend the second, and to those who were not at the first, we say, come, 'eat, 'drink,' and be merry.

Benefit for Track Team

On Wednesday, March the 1st, at 6:40, the regular monthly business meeting of the Woman's League was held in West Hall. Roll call showed a large proportion of the members present. After the reading and approval of the minutes of the last meeting, and the adoption of the reports of the various committees, the scheme of doing something for the track team was presented to the meeting. The idea met with the hearty approval of all present, and plans are now well under way for a concert to be given under the auspices of the Woman's League for the benefit of the track team. With the support of the entire student body, the venture can not fail of success.

Civil Engineers Society

On Tuesday evening a meeting of the Civil Engineering students of the University was held in West Hall for the purpose of securing some organization among them as a body. There has been a decided sentiment expressed for some time past for the organization of a club to be composed of those taking the Civil Engineering Courses and this meeting was the result of that sentiment and the work of a few men.

Mr. W. F. Faustman, of the Junior Class presided at the meeting, which was well attended by the Engineers of the University.

After putting itself on record as in favor of an organization of the engineers the body proceeded to the discussion of details. Two points especially provoked some discussion. They were first, the limiting of the membership to Civil Engineering Courses and second, the admission of Freshmen to the Society. It was finally decided that membership should be open to all pursuing a course leading to the degree of Civil Engineering. The meeting voted to call this club, "The Civil Engineers Society of the George Washington University" and a committee consisting of Messrs. Dunstan, Warner and Faustman was appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws.

Upon the completion of this, the committee is authorized to call a meeting of the Society when the Constitution will be adopted and an organization affected.

Dramatic Club

A special meeting of the Dramatic Club has been called for Thursday evening at 6:30 p. m. At this meeting it is hoped that not only all the members, but all those interested in the Club will be present. Final arrangements will be made for the preliminary production to be given this month, and plans for the big production at the end of the term will be brought up and discussed. A number of plays are under consideration and these as well as others matters will be brought up.

The interest in the Dramatic Club has been lagging of late, but it is hoped that the announcement of the future plans will reawaken the enthusiasm which early in the season promised so much in this line of work.

Installation of Sigma Alpha Epsilon

The Beta Lambda Beta, a local fraternity of George Washington University, was installed Thursday as a chapter of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon. The ceremonies took place in the afternoon at Rauscher's. The new chapter is named the Washington City Rho, and is the reestablishment of the S. A. E. fraternity that existed at the then Columbian University before the civil war, and was, in fact, the only chapter of the fraternity to survive the war, but was afterward disbanded. The new local chapter of the S. A. E. has twenty-two members.

Eminent Supreme Archon William C. Levere, of Evanston, Ill., the head of the national fraternity, and Eminent Supreme Recorder Clarence Stowell, of Portland, Me., officiated at the installation ceremonies.

The ceremonies were followed by a Sigma Alpha Epsilon banquet at Rauscher's at night, given by the newly installed Washington City Rho Chapter. A large number of members attended the banquet, and Rev. C. D. Taylor, of Sligo, Md., presided as toastmaster.

When the coffee had been served William C. Levere, the Eminent Supreme Archon of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon's, responded to the first toast, which was "Expansion." Mr. Levere spoke of the gratifying growth of the fraternity, whose sixty-sixth chapter had just been installed. He pointed out that chapters of the fraternity are established from the University of Maine to Leland Stanford University, in California. The order, he continued, was founded at the University of Alabama in 1856, and numbered among its distinguished members the late President William McKinley. The entire membership of the fraternity, he stated, is about 10,000.

Other toasts were responded to as follows: "Memories," John G. Capers; "The Spirit of Fraternity," Edward H. Virgin; "The Supreme Council," Clarence W. Stowell; "Washington City Rho," Laurence A. Janney; "Washington Alumni Association," B. Micou.

The national officers of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity are: Eminent Supreme Archon, William C. Levere, of Evanston, Ill.; Eminent Deputy Supreme Archon, M. E. Holderness, of Nashville, Tenn.; eminent supreme recorder, Clarence Stowell, of Portland, Me.; Eminent Supreme Treasurer, George D. Kimball, of Denver, Colo., and Editor of the Record the official organ of the fraternity, Henry Sydner Harrison, of Richmond, Va.

The committee on arrangements for the banquet consisted of Laurence Janney, chairman; Leonard Day, William D. Searle, Clarence R. Naff, John A. Maught, and Charles H. Wilson.

Those present were:

Washington City Rho—Laurence A. Janney, Frank Sterek, John A. Maught, C. C. Farres, Chales H. Hawes, Leonard Day, William D. Searle, Edward C. Wilson, Antonio Gonzales, Joseph R. Stilson, Herbert J. Bryson, C. H. Wilson, James R. Gaskill, Jr., M. Manghum, C. R. Naff, William L. Morris, R. J. Cook, Howard J. Shore, and R. J. Wolf.

Kappa Alpha

"Inaugural eve" was the occasion of a general reunion of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity at their local Hall 1931 K St. N. W.

Immediately upon their arrival, the representatives of the numerous chapters were "taken in hand" by the Reception Committee and following the general greeting, the individual identity was absorbed in that of a merry throng, gathered from far and wide to participate in Theodore Roosevelt's Inauguration Festivities.

The spirit of patriotism prevailed in both speech and song and when finally the wee small hours marked the time for dispersal, one and all united in predicting a pleasant day for the 'morrow.

"For its always fair weather when good fellows get together."

Delta Tau Delta

On Friday evening February 17th, the local chapter of Delta Tau Delta gave a smoker at the chapter house 1902 H St., in honor of the alumni of the fraternity resident in Washington. A good alumni representation was present and the chapter members were out in full force to receive them. A most enjoyable evening was spent by all and the memories of active fraternity days were recalled to the alumni in a delightful manner.

Late in the evening after a buffet supper had been served, informal talks were given by the following:

P. C. Adams, I. C. Stockton, T. W. Vaughn, J. S. Chamberlain, I. S. Pepper, F. S. Hemmick and J. A. Lee.

During the Inauguration the chapter had the pleasure of entertaining the following brothers.

George M. Zacharias, Washington and Jefferson, '72, and Dean Corsa and Lewis Thomas, of Lehigh.

Pi Beta Phi

On Thursday evening, March second, Columbia Alpha Chapter of Pi Beta Phi, held its annual dance at the Normandie, where the ball room with its adjoining drawing rooms is particularly adapted to the needs of a small dancing party. The singing of several Fraternity songs by the Chapter, during the evening, lent an informal air to the occasion, as did the unconventional buffet supper served in the charmingly decorated dining room.

There were present, beside the active Chapter, several members of the alumnae.

The affair was chaperoned by Mrs. McPherson, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Barber and Mrs. Young.

Dental Notes

The boys of the Senior Class, were honored several nights ago by, a visit from Dr. Carlisle P. Knight, a rising young physician, who paid them a short call in the laboratory and shook hands with all his old classmates.

Dr. Constantini says his new clock is keeping splendid time and that he has it on his parlor mantel.

Mr. Howser of the Senior Class, who has been very ill for several weeks, is improving and the boys hope to see him back in a few days.

The supply of material kept on hand for the use of the infirmary has been slightly increased in the past few weeks, but there is still plenty of room for improvement.

Dr. Julian Pack, '04 Class, paid us a visit last week and we were delighted to gaze on the Dr. again. He has passed the Pa. State Board and is practising in Philadelphia and says that he is doing very well.

The debate held last Monday evening between the Enosinian Society of this University and the Literary Societies of Washington and Lee, reflects the greatest credit upon the Enosinian Society. It was the first time that the Society had ventured into the field of intercollegiate debate and the showing which it made on this occasion was splendid. The success of this venture makes certain its repetition in coming years and broadens considerably the field of intercollegiate debating at the University.

It is to be regretted that such poor support was given to the Society. The attendance, while large, had barely a handful of University students and those were entirely from the College. The Law School in its debates, looks for and expects the support of the other departments and receives it and it is no more than right that when the other departments enter into the same field that the Law School should stand ready with its aid. On this occasion it certainly did not. The time selected for the debate was an unfortunate one and to a degree accounts for the lack of University representation.

The fact that in spite of all these drawbacks and discouragements the Society went ahead and came out with colors flying, only adds to the credit of those who in whose hands the responsibility rested.

The editor, last week received the following letter from the President of the Alumni Association of the University. It was not marked for publication but its contents are such as should be of greatest interest to the student body and we very gladly insert it here.

The letter follows.

The Editor of the University Hatchet:

DEAR SIR:—I have followed with much interest the good work done through the University HATCHET in developing the University spirit. It is one of the best means to this very desirable end. So lacking has this spirit been in the past that the University can not call upon its alumni for the same measure of support as do other universities. The officers of the Alumni Association are anxious to increase and encourage alumni interest and think that this can be helped by the students in keeping the officers of the Alumni Association in touch with the various student events going on in the University.

The alumni and particularly the officers of the association should be called on by letter or personally to make contributions to the athletic fund and the other funds which are occasionally raised among the students for University purposes. It is especially the privilege of the president of the association to bear a share in such matters. Nothing gives a greater interest in any institution than the feeling that one has invested money in it.

Then, I think the alumni would greatly appreciate being occasionally asked through some representatives to take part in some of the student festivities, either during the year or at the commencement season. They have been generally overlooked on such occasions. As I am completing my term of office as president, it is not presumptuous for me to suggest that the president of the Alumni Association ought to be asked as a matter of course to the student gatherings where guests other than students are invited. This would aid in developing the reciprocal interest between students and alumni, so necessary for the healthful and permanent progress of the University

Yours respectfully,

WM. BRICE KING,

President of the Alumni Association.

The relationship which usually exists between the student body of a University and its alumni has never existed at this institution and in this letter of Mr. King's we may find one great reason for it, it had never been sought or cultivated by the student body. The value of such support and its aid in up-building both the student enterprises and activities and the University itself are recognized everywhere. It is a necessity of University hopes to maintain a high standing.

If the student body has been backward in seeking this support, as it surely has been, now is the time to make a step forward. Adopt the suggestion in this letter and see that the alumni are kept informed of what is going on and see further that they are present at all those gatherings which are held in the interest of the University and University affairs.

They stand ready to give their support for the asking.

Do your part and see that they are asked.

The following article headed "The Faculty and Athletics" was handed in a few days ago. It states in a clear manner what should be the relations of these two branches and we fully endorse and approve what it says, believing at the same time that our faculty has done and is doing all in its power for the advancement of athletics, consistent with the maintenance of a high standard of scholarship which must be the basis of faculty action.

Athletics have passed the experimental stage in university life, and have now become an integral part of it. A good representation may or may not attract students, but that athletics do stimulate and maintain enthusiasm cannot be questioned.

An essential element in the success of college sports is the endorsement and support of its leaders; the teachers. If the faculty becomes indifferent to the success of the foot ball team, the students will lose interest and it devolves upon the educators to foster a healthy "esprit de corps." A luke-warm attitude of our professors is infectious. It is the plain duty of every teacher and assistant to attend the games, win or lose, that they may be an example worthy of the students to follow. He does not lose the respect of his classes but he kindles an affection that only college men know. The students are quick to appreciate loyalty and will give the teams financial and moral support. Every one of the 150 members of the faculty should buy one or more season tickets, especially when sold at almost a ridiculously low rate. Even though an instructor is opposed to athletics, he should gladly lay aside personal prejudice in deference to the feeling of the majority and at least keep his views confined.

It was very clearly demonstrated last fall in the interclass foot ball games of the medical school, that much talent did not respond to the call for candidates and it can be said with much certainty that the conflicting hours of class and practice kept splendid material from strengthening the team. There were promises made of extra lectures and quizzes, but they never passed beyond the promise periods. This year this same condition counts the for students. There are a number of men who undoubtedly would be candidates for the ball team, if they could be assured of making up the time lost from class, by a few extra hours work on the part of the professors or their assistants. A few men have stood by the boys and it was appreciated. It is well enough to talk of poor teams, lack of enthusiasm of the student body and other inexcusable excuses, but a little encouragement, a little sacrifice of time, and a little generosity from the faculty will be "bread cast upon the waters." Let us pull together and help the boys out.

At the next meeting of University Congress, which will be held on March 11th the following bill will be put upon its final passage:

Be it enacted by University Congress in regular session assembled that from and after the passage of this act capital punishment be and is hereby abolished in the District of Columbia substituted as the punishment for all crimes for which the penalty is now capital punishment.

The bill will be in charge of Mr. Merritt, of Arkansas and Mr. Kelly, of South Dakota. Opposition to the measure will be led by Mr. Cohen, of Wisconsin and Mr. Sell, of the District of Columbia.

AFFIRMATIVE BRIEF

Capital Punishment should be abolished.

- I. Capital punishment is inexpedient.
  - a. It is contrary to the tendency of civilization.
  - b. It does not prevent murder.
  - c. It makes punishment uncertain, as many criminals are acquitted who would be convicted if the penalty were imprisonment.
- II. Capital punishment is immoral.
  - a. It rests on the old idea of retribution.
  - b. It endangers the lives of innocent people.
- III. Capital punishment is unjust.
  - a. Its mistakes are irremediable.
  - b. Men are criminals in some cases from heredity and environment.
  - c. Men of money and influence often escape, while poor criminals suffer the death penalty.
- IV. The abolition of capital punishment has been followed by satisfactory results.
  - a. In several countries in Europe.
  - b. In a number of States in this country.

The Negative Brief has not been received.
